Citizen Traps Burglars

An alert Atherton housewif Monday gave Atherton police a ti which led to the arrest of fiv Redwood City youths who, polic said, had burglarized an Atherto home, stealing a rifle, a portabl radio and eight packs of cigaret last Friday.

The youths—one 13, two 14 an two 15-year-olds, have been turne over to juvenile authorities, polic chief Leroy Hubbard said. H added that they also admitte burglaries of two Redwod Cit homes, and a vandalistic raid on Redwood City school last January

Chief Hubbard said the Atherton housewife became suspicious when she saw two of the boys approach her front door and ring the bell. Getting no response, she told police, the boys then knocked on the door for a while, then tried the knob.

Since the housewife had left th door locked the culprits were frus trated in their attempts to enter so they went to the back door an repeated the performance.

At this point, Hubbard contin ued, the housewife's curiosity go the better of her, and she opene the door and asked the boys wha they wanted.

They gave her the name of an other boy who, police sa the; ascertained, didn't live in the are at all.

As soon as the boys had gon the woman phoned police and de scribed the boys.

Using the name given by th youths, Atherton Officer Bil Burke checked where he lived and learned the identity of friend who could fit the description o the two seen by the Atherto housewife.

Checking further, he located on of the boys, who confessed unde questioning to raiding the Henr Wade home, 124 Patricia drive where the objects were taken.

He also implicated the othe boys.

Chief Hubbard said that the wo man wished to remain unidenti fied.

He said, however, that the man ner in which she cooperated with the police was exemplary, and was in keeping with the course of action suggested for residents in a booklet which is available at the police department.

Edge Road Site Condemnation Conference Near

Pre-trial conference between owners of the Taylor and Lowery estates and deputy district attorneys representing the Menlo Park Elementary School District—a required preliminary to the school district's effort to condemn a 7½-acre parcel out of the two properties facing Edge road—is set for July 30.

The actual condemnation suit itself may be heard Sept. 1, and if negotiations lag for only a few weeks beyond that date, the district may be unable to get a new school completed by the fall of 1959.

The tightness of the time schedule and the nearness of impending legal actions were explained by School District Business Manager John Richert, at a meeting of the district's board of trustees Tuesday.

He pointed out that, as if and when the district is granted title to the land and permission to build, it still faces a long schedule of requirements before actual construction can begin.

These include the drafting of plans and their approval in Sacramento as well as locally.

The district has already authorized two appraisals, which will be used as a basis for its offer in court.

Meanwhile, School District Trustee Kenneth Sayre, who as a "committee of one" has been attempting to negotiate directly with the owners in advance of the projected condemnation hearing, said he had "nothing concrete to report" as the result of his efforts.

Children Start Fire

Firemen responded to a call to Euclid avenue and Runnymede street in East Palo Alto Sunday afternoon, where a grass fire had been kindled by children playing with matches. There was no damage; the blaze was reported at 12:51 p.m., firemen said.

LOCAL CONTESTANT

CITY'S BEAUTY AND JAYCEE'S RESCUER—Arnelie Violette, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Violette of Menlo Park, late last week came to the rescue of the Menlo-Atherton Junior Chamber of Commerce, joining it's "Miss Menlo-Atherton" contest just in time to make a contest of it, and also to represent the city in the "Miss Fiesta" contest to be held tonight in San Mateo.

36-22-36:

Arnelle Violette Carries Banner For City in 'Fiesta Queen' Contest

A last-minute contest which developed Friday saved the Menlo Park-Atherton Junior Chamber of Commerce from ignominy, providing them with an entrant in tonight's "Miss Fiesta Dream Girl" contest in San Mateo.

The localite, Miss Arnelle Violette, was selected in a rapidly set-up judging session, joined by members of a committee headed by Ned Pfeiffer, contest chairman.

The contestant, 16, is a sophomore at Menlo-Atherton High School. She resides with her parents and two sisters at 318 Oakwood place.

Miss Violette explained that she had been interested in joining the contest last year, but the family vacation plans interfered. The family took an early vacation trip this year, however, and returned in time for her to learn of the contest and send in an entry blank.

The contestant, who weighs 124 pounds and who stands 5'5", enjoys swimming and other outdoor sports. She also likes drama and hopes to become either a beautician or a dress designer.

Miss Violette's statistics run 36-22-36; she has been a resident of Menlo Park for the past eight years.

Contest Chairman Pfeiffer points out that besides being the local Jaycee's entrant in tonight's contest, Miss Violette is now "Miss Menlo-Atherton" for the coming year. As such, he said, she may be expected to appear at official functions, such as groundbreakings, ribbon-cuttings and the like.

SOUVENIERS

Response to a call for World War I souveniers, guns and other memorabilia has been slow, it was reported this week by Joseph B. Kelly, committee chairman whose group is heading planning for the 319th Engineers reunion here Sept. 20th.

He said that such items, if loaned to the committee arranging the city's greeting for the Menlo Park trained regiment, will be used in window displays and possibly in a larger display at Fremont park, University drive and Santa Cruz avenue.

Persons having such items to loan should call Kelly at his home, DA 2-1814.

Ready Greeting:

Community Service Group Aides Meet to Plan Reception of 319th

Planning for the city's greeting to the 319th Engineers, who will convene in Menlo Park Sept. 20 for their Homecoming and annual reunion, was initiated this week.

At a meeting Monday night at the home of Joseph B. Kelly, it was decided the official program, planned to be held at Fremont Park, will be held short and informal; the members of the 319th will convene later for dinner at the Menlo Circus Club.

Committee members also agreed that appropriate signs attesting the city's welcome should be made available to merchants, along with posters and other mementoes of the World War I era.

Kenneth Thompson, president of the 319th Engineers' Association, said that the dinner will be open to all World War I veterans who trained at Camp Fremont. As in past years, between 200 and 250 former members of the 319th Engineering Regiment, which trained here in 1918, are expected to attend.

Kelly reported that he has contacted officials at the Presidio of San Francisco and has found that it will be virtually impossible to get army aid in providing weapons and other army equipment of 40 years ago.

But, he said, the army has pledged every cooperation, and will probably send the Sixth Army's bagpipe band and possibly other available entertainment.

Thomson said that he is willing to make available to merchants some 350 posters which were printed during World War I, some of which were for purposes of encouraging beholders to enlist, buy Liberty bonds, save food, or otherwise cooperate in the United States' war effort.

MAIN PURPOSE

He pointed out that "just getting together is what members of the 319th most want to do," in urging the informal type of recreation for the World War I comrades in arms, whose loyalties have been strong enough to keep them in contact ever since.

C. W. Otwell, who currently resides in Palo Alto, was commander of the regiment during its days of training here and during its tour of duty in France.

He can be expected to give a short talk, Thomson said, adding "the colonel always was pretty brief in his remarks."

Those who formed the committee for arrangements included Mrs. Avis Rapp, representing the BPWC; Kelly, representing the Legion unit; Michael L. Belangie representing the city council; and Art Stadler, representing the Rotary club. Representatives of the Lions and Kiwanis clubs were not present, owing to summer schedules.

Council Studies 14 Per Cent Boost In Menlo Park's 1958-59 Budget

School Budget Studied

Menlo Park Elementary School District trustees this week put their stamp of approval on a "publications budget," which foretells a general tax rate of $1.907 per $100 assesed valuation for the coming year.

That levy, School District business manager John Richert declared, will finance a $1,262,519 budget; he pointed out that most items in it were okayed by the trustees in a preliminary budget drafted a month ago.

The trustees set July 29 as date for a special meeting, at which they will discuss individual items.

Richert, in discussing the budget, said that the assessed valuation of the district has grown more than was anticipated; the district's total secured and unsecured tax valuation now stands at $38,579,830.

This was a gain, he said, of .542 percent over the district's valuation of last year.

Besides this, Richert said, the district actually ended tht 1957-58 fiscal year with a balance of $102,219.

This was made possible, he explained, because the district collected more from general taxes last year than was anticipated; the district established a reserve which contains $42,403 and some $28,645 which was budgeted remained unspent, resulting in the saving.

MAJOR INCREASE

Richert pointed out that since last year, teachers' salary increases have been approved by the district, meaning a rise in the "certificated salaries of instruction" item of the budget from $625,942 to $697,240.

Most other items in the budget have remained pretty much the same, or have been lowered slightly, he said.

The business manager added that character of individual items in the district's maintenance and capital outlay budgets can be expected to change. Last year, he said, major items included playground improvement and roofing jobs; this year, it's expected to take the form of classroom furniture and such items as are expected to be needed to make the proposed Edge road school habitable.

School district trustees commended Richert on the saving of $28,645 from last year's budget, characterizing it as a "significant saving" and noting that it was made up of smaller amounts from several budget categories.

They agreed, however, that they would like to make an item-by-item check of the entire budget before it is discussed in public hearing Aug. 5.

Besides certificated salaries of instruction, major items in the proposed finance schedule include:

OTHER EXPENSES

Administration, $42,522; other salaries of instruction, $40,700; other expense of instruction, $41,300; auxiliary services, $13,200; operation of plant, $101,250; maintenance of plant, $35,700 and pupil transportation, $20,610.

The district has also budgeted $1500 for food services; $23,618 for community services; $2000 for capital outlay in regard to buildings; $20,700 for equipment; $109,463 for repayment of a stage school building loan; $2000 for transfers; $60,000 for undistributed reserve and $501 for general reserves and the district's revolving fund.

Acutally, although the district's general tax rate will be $1.907, the total tax rate as seen will be in the neighborhood of $2.323, Richert said.

This is because, in addition to the general tax, the district may levy special "overriding" tax rates for repayment of the school building loan ($.285); community services ($.48); retirement ($.052) and state retirement fund ($.031).

State apportionments are added to income from local taxes to make possible the ultimate sum needed to finance the budget.

Paving Rebuilt

Currently in progress at Encina' school is a paving job, designed to add new longevity to the 28,000 square feet of blacktop near the school's buildings.

The job is being done at a cost of $1600.

Repairs made at this time eliminate the need for a more expensive job later, according to District Business Manager John Richert.

Yesterday:

Electricity Blackout Hits Area; Rewiring Job Restores Power

The heart of Menlo Park's business district was blacked out for about 30 minutes and electrical service along Menlo avenue was cut off for three hours yesterday morning.

Duncan Reynard, superintendent of Pacific Gas and Electric Co.'s Redwood City office, said the accident blackout occured when a truck backed into a transformer pole in the parking lot at Draeger's market, University and Menlo avenues, at 8:5 p.m. Police were stil trying to confirm this as the cause of the accident, as the Recorder went to press.

Officer John Canali said he had investigated, and had found that a guy wire supporting a transformer stand in the parking lot had been hit recently. He said that, by the time he got to the scene of the accident, however, no damaged trucks were in evidence.

Reynard said 35 utility company workers, representing three complete trouble-shooting crews as well as supervisory personnel, were called on to re-wire two high tension circuits from El Camino Real to the scene of the accident.

He said that when the truck hit the line, it caused a "surge" of power in two parallel wires leading from the highway to the market, at the same time causing them to whip together.

As a result, Reynard said, wires fell at at least six locations between the highway and University drive.

Police were called to the scene, to direct traffic around the trouble area.

Reynard said that service along the south side of Santa Cruz avenue was cut off along with that along the north side of Menlo avenue.

However, PG&E crewmen restored this service in a few minutes by cutting "cross feed" lines connecting Menlo and Santa Cruz avenue properties and then connecting the Santa Cruz avenue line with one fed from the West Menlo substation, at Alameda de las Pulgas and Gordon avenue.

Why So Big?

DOG DAZE

Menlo Park is going to the dogs. At least $15,156 will go to them this year, according to the city's 1958-59 proposed budget.

The city has a contract with the Palo Alto dog pound to handle stray dogs and cats in Menlo Park. Last year 357 dogs and 273 cats received room and board at the Palo Alto pound at approximately $1 a day—at Menlo taxpayers expense.

There are 956 legal dogs in Menlo Park, those with licenses, and councilmen declined to estimate those without. This means, said one lawmaker, that it costs approximately $17 per recognized dog in the community for those that are unrecognized.

Long Session:

City Governing Body Defers Talk On Bonds as Budget Gets Airing

Discussion of plans for Menlo Park's proposed bond issue, which has tentatively been slated for Nov. 4, was deferred by the city council this week.

The city's proposed budget for the 1958-59 fiscal year consumed more than three hours; since two councilmen had to leave the meeting early, the bond proposal, which may mean the city could seek a bonded indebtness as high as $1,250,000, was held over.

City Manager John R. Johnson, however, said that improvements sought—a $600,000 grade separation under the Southern Pacific tracks and development of a civic center, could be financed by combining sales tax revenues, as well as state gas tax funds.

Actually, he pointed out, the city could bond itself to the $1,250,000 figure without trouble—if the proposition can be sold to the voters. Legally, a city can incur a bonded indebtedness up to 15 per cent of its valuation, meaning a maximum of $5,400,000 on the basis of the city's present valuation of $36,000,000.

On the other hand, Johnson said, the city could rely on sales tax revenues, which, under present policies, produce about $100,000 a year for capital improvements. But if it did so, it would be able to finance a bond issue of only a little more than $1,000,000, since 4 percent, 20-year bonds would require annual payments from $87,000 diminishing to $50,000 for that amount.

Gas tax funds could be used to help finance the underpass construction job, he said; but only a relatively small per cent of these could be used for the grade separation every year, since the city has other major streets and highways to maintain.

At an informal meeting two weeks ago, council indicated they would definitely press for passage of a bond issue for the $600,000 grade separation job in the fall.

Although they discussed possibilities at some length, they didn't reach a decision as to what other projects—such as complete civic center development, new police station, parks and recreation facilities, should be put before the voters on a bond issue basis.

Schools Grateful For Gifts From Adult Units

Grateful appreciation for items purchased by PTAs and the Menlo Park Junior Women's Club, for use in the area's schools, was this week expressed by trustees of the Menlo Park Elementary School District.

Authorizing a letter of thanks to the PTAs, members of the board pointed out that the character of education is being enhanced through the efforts of the parent-teacher groups.

They asked that School District business manager John Richert frame the wording of a suitable letter of thanks to participating groups, which have included:

Oak Knoll School PTA, which last year donated $418.96 for a motion picture projector, $330 for library book and $100 for landscaping at the school; the Laurel School PTA, which has given $83.43 for classroom science kits and the Junior Women's Club, which donated $400 for equipment for a "tot lot" at the Hillview School playground.

Atherton, School Lawyers Face Court Today

The town of Atherton last Thursday was granted an extra week during which to present extra arguments as to why the municipality should continue as a party in the Menlo Park Elementary School District's suit to condemn a 7½-acre site along Edge road.

City Attorney Winston Churchill Black is to present his argument today. There was a previous one week deferment, since the Atherton attorney was tied up with another case in San Francisco.

The school district contends that, since a state circuit court of appeals decision, the town has no interest in its present suit to condemn property out of the Taylor and Lowery estate, fronting on the road.

Looking Ahead:

'Wait 'til Next Year' Is Motto of Recorder Racers

"Wait 'til next year!"

So declared David Fraser, after being eliminated from the Soapbox Derby competition in San Francisco Saturday, after winning a single heat in his "Recorder Special."

David, 13, has two more years during which he'll be eligible to race and, he says, technical difficulties which slowed his powerless speedster in Saturday's contention have already been diagnosed.

"We didn't have enough weight," he says, explaining that a bathroom scale used to weigh his entry showed it as weighing a total of 240 pounds, with driver aboard. It actually weighed only 218 pounds, Fraser said.

FROM THE COCKPIT of his "Recorder Special" soapbox racer, David Fraser, 13, looks forward to next year's contention in San Francisco while listening to advice of Richard Polese, 16, the overage soapbox race expert of the Recorder's staff.

Advice given by Senior Soapbox Derby Consultant Richard Polese, who represented the Recorder in two past races and who is now over-age, didn't do much good.

Richard's advice consisted of quoting the late Tazio Nuvolari, whose driving dominated European auto racing for 30 years, who said,

"Power on the turns!"

David said the advice was excellent, except that his car didn't have any engine, hence no power and the soapbox course at Sunset Boulevard and Ulloa street didn't have any turns in it.

Nevertheless, the Recorder's race driver returned home happy. He was awarded a fishing pole, because his racer passed the technical inspection without any trouble, and he got a trophy for the race he did win.

Not only that, his racer was autographed by such luminaries as Bob St. Clair, captain of the San Francisco 49ers football team and Richard Eastham, star of the television show, "Tombstone Territory."

David, a Recorder carrier for the past two years, resides at 324 Arbor road. Richard watches a weather station for the newspaper. Both are members of Boy Scout Troop 104.

Services, Expenses Growing

The Menlo Park City Council opened discussion Tuesday night on the city's 1958-59 proposed budget, up almost $100,00 over last year's figure of $638,770.

The 1958-59 estimate calls for an overall budget outlay of $735,828. The proposed total tax rate is 86 cents.

The increase is reflected primarily in salaries and wages, brought about by the addition of personnel to the city's payroll.

Councilman Michael Belangie said, "It seems to me we are not getting much more from our budget except keeping up with salaries and wages."

In spite of a climbing budget, some councilmen expressed dissatisfaction that the city is just able to keep up with operating expenses from year to year.

Councilman Ira Bonde was concerned over the question of why the city couldn't run its business at or near the same amount required the previous year.

The departmental totals for this year's proposed budget compared with last year's budget show general government $43,786, last year $40,553; city clerk $10,781, last year $10,354; city treasurer $6,590, last year $6,762; city manager $22,379, last year $22,236; police department $252,641, last year $210,534; street department $113,435, last year $99,548.

Park department $70,742, last year $69,808; recreation department $82,901, last year $72,533; building department $21,807, last year $20,279; animal regulation $15,156, last year $10,840; mun. court $4,000, last year $3,600; city attorney $15,556, last year $15,154; planning commision $11,64, last year $5,082; library $6,090, last year $13,386; street lighting $38,900, last year $38,000.

Total estimated expenditures for general government departments is $115,056, compared with last year's $103,741. Estimated cost to run operating departments this year is $620,772, as against $535,029 in 1957-58.

REVENUE RISES

General property taxes are expected to bring in $25,200, with other general revenue items such as business licenses, gas tax, motor vehicle fees, traffic fines, building inspection fees, etc., accounting for the remainder of the $601,763 total in anticipated general revenue. Sales tax revenue and recreation department income is expected to round out the total figure of $683,363 in anticipated revenue.

This deficit between estimated revenue and proposed budget will be made up from a cash balance caried over from last year of $92,356.69, and advances payable to the general fund in city sales taxes, $35,549.01, and the water department, $4,940.19, for a total of $132,845.89. This, combined with $683,363 in estimated revenue, will make a total of $816,208.89 available, leaving a balance of $80,380.-

McComiskey Named To Police Post

Charles McComiskey, Menlo Park police patrolman for the past eight years, has been raised in rank to the position of assistant inspector, it was announced this week by Police Chief George Potter.

The new assistant inspector has been doing investigatory work for the department for the past year, Chief Potter said. His new job carries a salary of $505 a month; top patrolman's salary is $490.

Potter said that McComiskey, a native of Boston, has taken many special courses offered by bay area law enforcement agencies, in addition to those offered by the local department, in order to qualify for his new job.

McComiskey resides with his wife and daughter at 217 Marmona drive.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF

"Malicious mischief" was what firemen called an alarm which directed them to the Willow road-Bayshore freeway grade separation last Thursday night. They said they were unable to find any fire in the area, although an anonymous caller had phoned to report "smoke" in the area.

Big Jump Forseen in City Budget

39 over and above the 1958-59 budget.

One of the primary reasons why revenue is falling below the budget this year is because of $97,500 already spent out of sales tax funds for acquisition of two sites for parking lots.

The lots, located on Merrill avenue and Oak Grove street, were purchased from the Southern Pacific railroad. City Attorney James T. O'Keefe said even though the city had to dip into sales tax monies to buy the lots, it was good business, "because the opportunity might have been lost had they waited."

In other business the council continued discussion of the city's 1957-58 financial report presented last week by City Manager John Johnson.

SEEK MORE DETAILS

In attempting to untangle the complexities of bookkeeping and find out where the city's money goes, and by what route it takes, councilmen called for a more simplified method of reporting financial transactions.

Councilman Vaile Andrus said budget reports should be clarified "so that councilmen can understand them."

Stanley O. Schnepple, superintendent of the Ravenswood School District, and Joseph Violette, board trustee, appeared at the council meeting to protest a recommendation made by Menlo Park City Attorney James O'Keefe in regard to assistance in constructing recreation facilities at the Menlo Oaks elementary school.

The Ravenswood district is building a multi-purpose room there and had requested the city council to pay approximately $11,000 for consruction of a hardwood floor that the district is now unable to put in.

Schnepple said they probably would not be able to install the floor for another five years, and he felt it would be to the city's advantage to aid in the improvement at this time since the facility wil be used by citizens for recreational purposes.

Schnepple made the request a month ago and councilmen at that time asked O'Keefe for an opinion on the legality of the proposal. O'Keefe said in his opinion that such a move would be a violation of expenditure of public funds over and above what is considered necessary for recreational purposes.

Councilmen went along with O'Keefe on his recommendation and refused to consider entering into the agreement.

CITES AGREEMENT

Violette cited an instance where the city had allegedly entered into a similar agreement with the Menlo Park School District. He said people who live and pay taxes in a city where two districts are located are unable to understand when the city aids one financially and not the other. "There is a feeling by taxpayers in the area that they are not getting their fair share of tax monies," Violette said

Firemen Respond In Force— Blazes Minor

Burning grease in a pan on a stove and smouldering railroad ties combined smells the night of July 9, with the result that Menlo Park Fire District firemen emptied two stations in an effort to put out a non-existent building fire.

First call came at 8:07 p.m. The firemen were informed by a householder at 115 El Camino Real that she smelled wood burning. She thought there must be a building burning in the neighborhood, she said, and a full assignment of men and equipment rolled from station 6, at Oak Grove avenue and Hoover street.

A scant 10 minutes later—while firemen on the first call were still scouting around, looking for the source of the smoke—a second alarm was received. The firemen responded with a second full assignment of equipment, this time from headquarters station at Middlefield road and Santa Monica avenue.

The smelly grease was finally located on the stove in the kitchen at 115 El Camino.

The railroad ties were found, smouldering, at the rear of a used car lot across the highway.

An operator of the used car lot, firemen said, had been burning grass in the neighborhood earlier in the day.

Hiller to Increase Working Force

Hiller Helicopters, East Palo Alto aircraft firm, expects to increase its working force to beyond 1000 men, to help fill an army contract for 108 army-ordered H-23D helicopters, it was announced last week.

The army has awarded the local firm a $5,470,000 contract for the work.

The new three-place machines, boasting 250-horsepower engines, have better flight characteristics than their predecessors, according to a spokesman for Hiller.

They are to be used throughout the world for such purposes as training, observation, reconnaissance and evacuation.

The new contract, plus existing military contracts and planned commercial production for the coming year, will approximately double the company's output of three-place helicopters through 1960.

Richard Roach Takes NCO Course

Richard Roach, 1250 Mills street this week returned from Camp Roberts where he was graduated from 91st Infantry Division NCO academy, while the unit was in summer training.

Roach, a specialist third class, is attached to Company D, 363rd Infantry regiment, attached to the U.S. Army Reserve armory in Mountain View, which serves this area. He is a business administration at College of San Mateo.

Before taking up residence in Menlo Park, Roach served three years on active duty with the army in Germany, serving with the 8th Infantry.

Fire Training Pays Off for Smoke Eater

Fireman Dick Cesarin, who lives at 2061 Ralmar street, knows just what to do when a household emergency occurs. Thus, last week when his water heater ruptured, he called the Menlo Park Fire District.

His fellow firemen arrived with appropriate tools to shut off the water and gas, and mop up the water.

More Scouts Head For Pomponio

Three Menlo Park and one East Palo Alto Boy Scouts will attend the fourth session at the San Mateo County Council's Camp Pomponio beginning July 20.

The three Scouts from Menlo Park are Mike Cole and John Quinn, Troop 139, and Robert Texier, Troop 223.

The lone camper from East Palo Alto is Jimmy Dart.

Joshua Tree at Oak Knoll School Still in Need of New Location

The homeless Joshua tree which the Menlo Park Elementary School District has to give away is still in place on the Oak Knoll school grounds.

Once again, School District Business Manager John Richert this week reported himself "not concerned" over the fate of the tree. He said he has received "a nibble" from an interested resident who thinks the 30-foot desert plant would look well in his garden.

"It's a big tree and it will have to be moved by some contractor who has a lot of equipment, and it will have to go to a home whose residents have a lot of space and whose landscaping will benefit by it," Richert explained.

He added that contractors are currently working on the Oak Knoll playground, and expect to have grading completed this week. However, the tree can remain in place for about a month, he said, before it will interfere seriously with further development of the playfield.

The tree, planted as part of the landscaping of Cedro cottage, is in the path of development of a softball diamond. A second tree can remain in place without serious effect on the usefulness of the playground.

Cedro cottage, which was torn down in the early 1950's to make room for Oak Knoll school, was originally the home of Ariel Lathrop, brother of Mrs. Leland Stanford.

Several distinguished faculty members at the university, including economist Thorsten Veblen, resided there.

EXPERT MODEL BUILDER

CRAFTSMAN—Martin Nelson, 660 Harvard avenue, is shown with part of a disassembled scale model locomotive, of the type which he has spent as much as 3000 hours to construct. His locomotives, constructed to scale almost to the last bolt, are capable of generating power by burning coal.

Model Builder:

Martin Nelson, Woodworker, Has Hobby to Complement His Job

For 38 years, Menlo Park's Martin Nelson has been leading two lives—and both of them are similar.

Days, he's a custom furniture artisan at the Allied Arts Guild. At other times, after business hours and on weekends, he's a home craftsman in whose hands metal changes its shape like putty, and under whose skilled chisels and hammers plain blocks of wood are turned into statuettes, objets d'art, and household decorations.

When he's tired of working with wood, Nelson, who lives at 660 Harvard avenue, turns to metal. From scrap pieces of copper and brass, he has assembled two coal burning locomotives, and accessory cars. The trains are scaled down ½ inch to the foot.

Nelson buys rough cast parts from England for the wheels and gears, then machines them down. Experts estimate 3000 man hours go into completing locomotives, and Nelson says "I'm never satisfied with just building models; I like to make them, then change them."

Future plans for the trains include the laying of track in his back yard so his grandson, Johnnie, will have a real train to play with. "Many people don't seem to realize that a train this size will pull four adults," Nelson commented.

As a boy in Brooklyn, Nelson used to watch the tugboats working in the river. oFr several years now, he has been asembling a model for just such a tug. Scaled three-eighths inch to a foot, the tug is complete with a marine type compound engine and boiler.

When his two sons were small, Nelson used to pull them in their rowboat with the tugboat.

Nelson has also built two four-foot models of racing yachts, one of the Endeavor, which used to race in the Lipton Cup races.

Karl Wischhusen Cited for Service

Twenty-five years of skilled and loyal service to Peninsula Contractors Williams and Burrows, Inc., was rewarded recently with the presentation of a handsome watch to Karl Wischhusen of Menlo Park.

Wischusen is a carpenter foreman, and in his capacity has worked on many of the projects constructed by the firm in the Peninsula area.

Frank Burrows, who presented the gift, presided over the annual Foremen's Dinner held this year at the Villa Chartier, San Mateo.

TELLS US:

Menlo Park is now a community of fine homes but this wasn't always so. Forty years ago this summer, for instance, it featured the army's eight-man pyramid tents as the most prevalent form of habitation.

"There must have been more than 2000 of those things here," said Kenneth Thomson, president of the 319th Engineers Association, made up of veterans of a World War I unit which trained at Camp Fremont.

Thomson made his observation while observing that World War 1 artifacts now seem hard to get.

In fact, he said, there don't seem to be any of the tents available for display here Sept. 20, when the engineers hold their annual reunion.

Richard Polese, the Recorder's weather station watcher, reports that the Sputniks are still going over.

He says that he would have seen it, too, Monday evening, but it was overcast.

Richard, whose home at 1630 Stanford avenue, has a flat-roofed shed out in back of it, says he's going to paint the shed's roof with the word, "Peace" in Russian.

That's his commentary on the international situation for today.

* * *

Menlo Park isn't going to the dogs, after all.

In spite of what might be said about the rest of the world, Menlo Park is less and less in the clutches of the bow-wows.

This was confirmed last Thursday at Hillview School, when only four canines showed up for what had been billed as a pet parade.

Youngsters told the playground directors there just aren't as many dogs around the neighborhood as there used to be.

Not only that, youngsters appear to be getting more cautious these days: some of them volunteered that they would have brought their pets, but decided not to because "they might get into fights."

As We See It:

The Fair Will Show County's Still a Producer

Tonight in San Mateo, a queen of this year's county Fair and Floral Fiesta will be selected, signalling the official start of the tub-thumping and publicizing for the annual show.

Without taking anything away from the publicity which is going to emanate from the county fair's headquarters before the show opens its nine-day run Aug. 1, we'd like to invite attention to a couple of things:

First, the San Mateo county Fair and Floral Fiesta — your county fair — is one of the largest in the state.

Second, it is one of the most diverse.

Residents of the Menlo Park area who haven't been around long enough to learn what a diverse, wonderful place San Mateo county is, may be in for a surprise, and long-time residents who will have their opinions of the area's luxuriousness reaffirmed, by attending the event.

Those of us who live in the check-by-jowel houses of the bayside cities may have forgotten that one of the county's major agricultural production is flowers. It'll be shown, in one of the best flower shows that the entire county offers, there there is still plenty of variety in the productions of commercial as well as amateur horticulturists.

Those who think of livestock as something that browses on the endless plains of the middlewest are in for a surprise. The cattle, sheep, hogs, and fowl produced in the less populated areas of the county are well qualified to compete for the prizes and ribbons that will be offered.

All of which adds up to quite a show. Add to that the entertainment, the commercial exhibits, the household exhibits, the work of the area's homemakers and artists, and you've got something worth at least one visit and, depending on your particular interest, maybe more.

———o———

A Real World Series Will Be Played Here

Saturday at 10 a.m., it'll be World Series time in Menlo Park.

The World Series will be between champions of the American and National Little Leagues, which this week were completing rounds of play which have been going on since the start of the summer.

The Burgess Little League ball park may not have all the accommodations of Seals Stadium, but the game can be expected to have just about as many thrills, chills, possibilities of a Frank Merriwell finish, two-outs-and-bases-loaded situations as any ball game.

If, Saturday at 10 a.m., you find you've got all your household chores done, stroll over to the Little League park. You're in for a couple of hours of fun.

Summer Brings Other Hazards; Keep Vacation Fun Safe!

Besides the sudden throngs of busy bicycles upon the streets, vacation time brings other hazards, too.

During the months to come, Mid-Peninsula residents will be dashing off on leisure errands in search of pleasure. As your local newspaper, devoted to the interests, the doings, the comings and goings of our local residents, we will chronicle the events of many such an excursion.

We plead with you to help make our task pleasant. With your help — and your attention to the rules of safety — we hope to keep your name in the news columns — not in the obituaries.

Troop 104 Scouts Plan Barbecue

Date of a chicken barbecue with which members of Boy Scout Troop 104 will fete members of their sponsoring organization — the Menlo Park Lions club—has been shifted to Aug. 19, it was announced this week.

The affair will be held at Flood Park, and will commence at 7 p.m.

The Scouts under the direction of Scoutmaster Marvin McIntyre, will do the cooking.

Proceeds of the affair will go into the troop treasury.

Municipal Report:

Ravenswood Incorporationists Tell Obstacles to City Set-Up

The Ravenswood Incorporation Committee is circulating a petition in an attempt to get 25 per cent of the homeowners who own 25 per cent of the assessed valuation of the land in the area to sign a petition calling for an election to decide the incorporation issue.

The committee has set August 21, as the deadline when the petition must be completed and turned in to the County Board of Supervisors.

No figures are available on the extent of signatures already on the petition. Donald Barr, committee chairman, said his group will continue soliciting signatures up until the deadline.

Following is a statement released by the Ravenswood Incorporation Committe concerning is progress in obtaining signatures:

"More than 70 per cent of the homeowners, including some who had previously signed anti-incorporation cards, that this committee has contacted to date, have either signed or agreed to sign the petition requesting an incorporation election. From this the committee has drawn the conclusion that the people of our community are willing to have the incorporation issue settled once and for all, at the polls.

"Of the industrialists contacted by this committee, or those owning unimproved industrial land, none have indicated a desire to see the area have an incorporation election. Some have expressed alarm over the prospect of such an election. Some have told committee members point-blank that they will work to prevent such an election.

"Spokesmen for two of the largest industries in the area admitted to this committee that while incorporation may be overdue for our community, they simply did not want to pay their share of taxes to support a new city.

"The committee against incorporation is largely supported directly or indirectly by these same industrialists and owners of undeveloped land in East Palo Alto. Their tactics have not been endorsed or supported by any homeowner or civic group.

"The issue to this Ravenswood Incorp Committee is simply that owners of East Palo Alto far the largest stake in of the community. The are sure can intelligent their community's future polls. This committee will that end.

"We do not believe that the anti-incorporation committee really concerned with getting facts. We do not believe th anti-incorporation committe concerned with the commun welfare. We believe the anti-corporation committee, for th own self-interest, is concer with preventing the incorporat issue from reaching a vote.

Walter:

ON THE TRAIL

Walter the Weathermouse, wearing a boiled dickie, claw-hammer coat and other gentlemanly furnishings, minced in, handed us his report and announced:

"I am going out to dinner tonight at a small exclusive restaurant—the only one of it's kind, mind you—and it serves selected and distinctive food. Also it's quite far distant and hard to find.

"Also the vulgarity of publishing the price of items on the bill of fare has been dispensed with. The establishment subsists entirely on gratuities . . ."

"Walter," we wheedled, "you know that we, too, are gourmets. Where is this delightful resort, and how does one identify it?"

"Well," rhapsodized the rodent, "It's to be identified by a small sign, sporting a tilted letter 'e' in lower case. Small and exclusive, you see.

"You go up El Camino Real for about 150 miles . . ."

"Stop right there!" we interrupted. "It's too long a way to Tip a Rare e."

Local Police 'Boosted' City Treasury

The files of the Menlo Park Recorder reveal that, 30 years ago this week, the following items, here reproduced exactly as first published, were news in the young community:

July 20, 1928:

"Up to date the police department of this city have made a fine record and when Judge Cook returns from his cruise with the Naval Reserve there is no doubt but that the city treasury will receive a big boost . . .

Two men were arrested for gambling and each donated $100 to the city treasury.

"Twenty-five were arrested for various violations of the State Motor Vehicle Act and they are the ones who are awaiting the return of the Judge.

"In the past six months the police department has added enough money to the city treasury to pay all of the officers salaries for the new year and a half."

HILLVIEW SITE CONDEMNATION ORDERED

"The Menlo Park elementary school district will begin condemnation proceedings against a projected western area school site at Elder and Santa Cruz avenues, but meantime will watch for possible alternative sites.

"This was decided at a board meeting Monday night after Jerome Politzer, attorney for the Elder avenue site owners, rejected a board offer of $3500 on grounds that use of the eight acres involved as a school site would deprive the Sharon estate of a water supply.

"Politzer represented the Menlo Investment Co., which owns the Sharon estate.

County Comment:

Some Items in Huge New Budget May Benefit From Close Analysis

By FLOYD M. McCUE
Editor and Publisher, Redwood City Star-Advertiser

Courthouse officials are still unwilling to make a prediction on the county tax rate for 1958-59, but every indication points to an increase, and the big question is, how much?

One thing is certain, this year's spending program is a dilly—up nearly three million over last year and the increases in assessments are not expected to handle the load. The grand budget is $25,809,744, including an estimated $708,685 in fees and commissions. On top of this, there is a tidy sum of $3,387,729.25 (estimated) for budgets of districts governed through local board. Hardly a department missed getting a budget increase, and as we can well will go into the separate budgets during the coming weeks and try to explain the increases with all the whys and wherefors.

First, we must recognize the fact that the county manager chopped off approximately a million dollars from the requests of departmental heads, somewhat under the slashes made in recent years.

Particularly difficult, so we were told, was keeping the number of new employes in line with increased responsibilities of the many offices. As usual the Department of Health and Welfare was allowed the major share, but these figures will be explained at a later time.

Adding to the costs for the new year are the salary increases voted by the supervisors for all county employes, including the elective officials who will start getting bigger pay checks Jan. 1. One of the more frightening totals in our opinion, is the big jump in costs to the taxpayers in the new retirement program. San Mateo is the first, if not the only county in the state, to grant double retirement plans, having adopted the federal Social Security program on top of the state operated program.

In 1957 the bill for this item was $431,156.32. Last year the total had jumped to $625,000 and this year it is expected to hit $700,000 or close to it. There has been some talk of combining the two programs in an effort to save money both for the taxpayers and the employes, but nothing has happened. The federal OSI program added $150,000 to the retirement costs this year alone.

Under the heading of capital projects, we find that the bill will be somewhat lower than 1957-58, despite the start of several new buildings.

Largest planned is the administration building near the hall of justice, with $750,000 requested but nothing allowed. This indicates that the county plans to finance the estimated $2½ million projection a lease-purchase basis, more costly than a bond proposal and much, much higher than the popular pay-as-you-go plan that has been followed for several years.

The total in the general capital outlay budget for the new fiscal year is $2,704,691 as compared to an estimated $2,703,648.16 spent during 1957-58, and $2,487,538.21 in 1956-57. Not much change.

The capital outlay, however, does not mean that this represents the expansion program for the next 12 months. It includes the new purchases of equipment, etc. for all county departments, and only $839,500 is set aside for actual construction projects. Included is $250,000 for land acquisition, much of it for purchasing more than a block north of the Hall of Justice for the new administration building and central services garage, both of which are expected to be started this year.

In looking over the capital outlay figures, $300,000 is set aside for adding 100 beds at Crystal Springs Home and facilities for improving the rehabilitation center there. The county has requested and expects to receive a $600,000 appropriation from the federal government to complete the estimated $1,000,000 job.

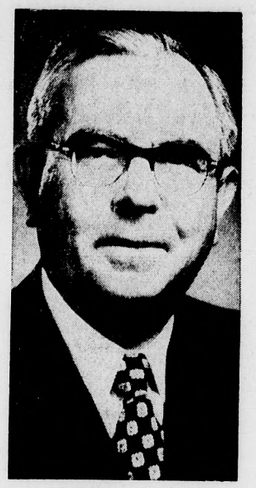

The "requested" column shows $25,000 for the Community Hospital kitchen and $100,000 was appropriated—must be some kitchen! Only other change in the requests was $70,000 to purchase property for a Coastside branch for county government, which is evidently put off for a year at least.

It might be interesting to the taxpayers to find out that they do not "own" Hillcrest, the county juvenile home. A few years ago the county sold the detention center to the county retirement board in order to borrow cash for expansion. The retirement board will put another $200,000 this year for further expansion. The same plan of financing is being used for the three new branch libraries.

Other items in the capital budget include $2,500 for the Pescadero fire station, $35,000 for Hall of Justice expansion, $25,000 for the general services warehouse, $15,000 for the sealer of weights and measures facilities at Belmont,, $60,000 for the boys ranch school, $15,000 for the medium security jail (jail farm), $15,000 for courthouse alterations, and $200,000 for a new central courthouse branch in San Mateo.

These capital outlay projects are a natural process for a growing county, apparently coming a little more rapidly during the "lush" years when the people fail to take a little heed of a few cents more on the rate.

Sales Are Up For Realtors

Multiple Listing Service sales of the Menlo Park-Atherton Board of Realtors are up nearly 80 per cent during the first half of 1958, as compared with totals for the same period in 1957.

Gary Williams, secretary-manager for the board of realtors, said this week that sales for the first six months of this year totaled 322, with a dollar value of $ worth of properties changing hands.

There were 233 transactions, representing a dollar volume of $2,414,460 during the same six months in 19 , he said.

Williams pointed out that real estate sales patterns are seasonal in nature, and comparisons have to be made on that basis. Thus, he said, comparng succeeding months' totals is not an accurate guide to health of the real estate situation.

Little League Coaches Donated Time And Talent—and Did a Bang-Up Job

The value of Little League Baseball to American youth . . . and to America's future, is great.

This is no profound or original statement. It has been echoed by civic leaders and nationally-known sportsmen since the Little League organization first caught hold in the United States.

But to make Little League Baseball what it is—much planning and groundwork must be done each year by the individual communities, leagues . . . and by people of unselfish motive.

Without further hurrah or hooplah, we'd like to congratulate a specific community—Menlo Park, California, U.S.A.—for the grand Little League program it produced for 1958.

And digging a little deeper—we'd like to offer our thanks to a group of men who, as individuals, have probably done the most of all toward making Menlo Park's season a success.

Yep—the coaches. The fool who wouldn't take out the pitcher when he should have . . . the idiot who pulled Billy for a pinch-hitter . . . the umpire-baiter, the screamer, the clock-watcher . . . and the master strategist who shifted his lineup each inning.

These men donated time and talent to help boys learn to play baseball . . . and each of them put a little bit more than just horse-hide knowledge into his job, we feel sure.

So if you know the guy who coached your boy . . . or the neighbor's son—you might give him a verbal pat on the back next time you bump into him.

And if you say "nice job you did with the Little Leaguers this year," . . . whether his team won or lost . . . you'll be telling the truth.

Larry Irwin Enlists

Larry Irwin, three-sport letterman for Menlo-Atherton High School this year, has joined the Navy. The M-A grad will be in for a three-year hitch, until his 21st birthday.

Irwin was first-string on M-A's football squad last fall, and played part-time on the cage team. He was starting third-baseman for Frank Bettencourt's baseballers this past spring.

Other M-A athletes who graduated last year and have indicated college plans are Bob Anderson, U. of Cal.; Bob Ralls, SFC; Corky Pegelow and Roger Postlewaite, Menlo College; Bob Kennedy, Monterey-Peninsua College; Terry Baker, Pomona College; and Lance Hopkins, Hartnell.

A Three-Time Loser!

In last week's Crosby and Diegelman-Kiwanis Little League game C & D's Bobbie Lee found that crossing the plate doesn't always mean scoring a run.

On three consecutive plays, Lee dashed from third to home plate, scoring what he considered legitimate runs . . . but the runs never made the scorebook.

On the first play, he raced home on a hit, but he was sent back to third by the umpire because a C & D player-coach aided him by patting his back on the way down the line.

So, on the next pitch, Bobbie again left the third sack and scored . . . after an attempted pickoff had sailed past the third-baseman. But alas . . . the stray throw had landed in the lap of a C & D player who was out of the dugout . . . and interference was again called.

One pitch later (a wild one), Lee attempted to slide home . . . but as the catcher lunged for him, the batter stepped in front of the catcher . . . interfering with the tag.

This time the umpire called Bobbie out . . . and the side was retired without the much-sought after tally. C & D won the game anyhow.

Babe Ruth All-Stars Enter Tourney Action Today; Harry Reese Gets Pitching Role

The cream of Menlo Park's Babe Ruth baseball crop will meet its first tournament test at 5:30 p.m. today, as they meet Cupertino's All-Stars in the first round of the Coastal Division championships.

A last-minute withdrawal of Sunnyvale from the tourney brought the list down to six, and two of those six drew first round byes. Today's first game, to begin at 3 p.m. at the Stanford Sunken diamond, will be between Palo Alto-Los Altos and Mountain View.

The winners of today's 3 p.m. game will play Campbell-Los Gatos, who drew a bye, at 3 p.m. tomorrow. The winner of the Menlo Park-Cupertino contest will meet Redwood City, the other bye, in tomorrow's 5:30 p.m. game. The championship game will be played Saturday, July 19, at 5 p.m.

Bill Hughes, head coach of the American Institute of Architects, currently leading the Menlo Park Babe Ruth League, and assistant Frank Bettencourt, coach of Menlo's second place Machinists, are managing the All-Stars.

REESE GETS NOD

The coaches have indicated their probable starting lineup, but not batting order. Harry Reese, a 4-1 record-holder for AIA, is the probable starting hurler. Reese leads the Menlo Park league in strikeouts with 67 and has allowed only 26 hits and 23 walks in 40⅔ innings pitched.

The other probable starters, by position, and the team they represent, are as follows. The batting averages listed do not include last Tuesday's games.

C—Kent Bach, Lowes, .273; 1b—Pete Kump, AIA, .341; 2b—Dave Drotar, Red Cottage, .452; 3b—Rick Bentley, Machinists, .333; ss—Danny Partemi, Machinists, .385; lf—Mike Cruver, Lowes, .409; cf—Cliff Scott, AIA, .333; rf—Grant Beise, AIA, .295, or Dave Nelson, Con Freight, .286. The pitcher, Reese, is hitting .333.

Others on the squad are Ken Hadden, AIA; Dennis Brock, Lowes (alternate); Roger Williams and John Curti, Con Freight; Richard Pahler, Howatts (alternate); Bob Lovejoy, Red Cottage; Walker Williams, Machinists.

The tentatively named starting lineup boasts a healthy .353 batting average as a team . . . but the team they will face from Cuptrtino today is the tops from a five-team league and will undoubtedly have press clippings to match.

Joe Partemi is Menlo Park's representative to the protest committee, and the members (one from each league) will settle all disputes at the time of protest. The group will sit in the stands.

The National League group will hold its picnic Sunday, July 20, meeting at Burgess Park at 1 p.m.

Schedule Change

The Menlo Park Babe Ruth League has announced that this Saturday's scheduled games will be postponed until Saturday, August 9, because of the All-Star team's participation this weekend in the Coastal Division championships at Palo Alto. The games to be played on the season's final date, Aug. 9, will be: Howatts vs. Red Cottage (Bg); Menlo Machinists vs. Cons. Freight (F), and Architects vs. Lowes (B).

The team will enter tournament competition at 4:30 p.m. Monday against the Redwood City Highlander League All-Stars at Fair Oaks Park in Redwood City.

Down-to-Wire Finishes in Both Leagues, Lions vs. Lowes Today

Results Compiled by Stephen Brennan

It'll be the battle of Little League titans Saturday at Burgess park (10:30 a.m.) when the American and National league champions lock horns . . . but as we go to press, the champions are still unknown.

That's how tight the two league races have been all season . . . and although the American League's Judd & Wright aggregation has at least clinched a tie for top laurels, they can still be tied by Seybold Realty. The two teams were to have met last night, and if J & W won, the undisputed title was theirs.

In the National circuit, the two familiar names, Lions and Lowes —will meet this evening at 5 p.m., in what should decide the season's champion (unless they tie again) . Both teams entered the season's wrap-up contest with identical 9-4-1 records.

Last season the Lions, with a 16-3-1 record, copped the National League title, while Van de Sande (13-4-2) was the American's top team. In last year's all-star game, the American's All-Stars clobbered the National's best by a 14-2 score.

Lions Rally to Nip Kiwanis Nine, 9-7

The Menlo Lions kept their hopes for a National League pennant alive last week by rallying for six runs in the final innings against the Kiwanis, and winning 9-7.

Bob Kennedy led the Kiwanis hitting attack with a triple and single in three trips to the plate, with Greg Mikkelsen and Steve Snedeker each cashing in doubles to pace the league-leading Lions.

Kiwanis ..... 300 040—7	5	3

Winner: Greg Mikkelsen.
Loser: Steve Chase.

C & D Upsets Kiwanis 5-4, Walker Stars

Coming from behind with one in the fourth and two in the fifth, C&D captured its second straight upset win last week by nudging the Kiwanis, 5-4.

Star of the game both in the field and at the plate was C&D's Bob Walker. He rapped out an important double . . . and pegged out Kiwanis runners both at third and home plate from his center field position. He also made a running one-handed catch deep in left-center.

Mike Lovejoy had two singles for the Kiwanians.

AIA Wins Cliff-Hanger From Machinists, 2-1

Trailing 1-0, with two out in the bottom of the seventh, the Architects' Grant Beise doubled home Pete Kump, who had walked, for the game's tying tally.

In the eighth, again with two away, Jim Edwards singled to left-center, driving in Cliff Scott, who had reached first on a bunt and second on a throwing error.

Jim Sarafinski, who struck out nine and walked six in a winning effort, picked up his second victory of the season. Bill King took his second loss without a win.

Howatts scored what should have been the tying run in the fifth inning . . . but the runner, Jim Hooke, was called out by the home plate umpire after failing to touch the plate, and being tagged on the way to the bench by the CF catcher.

Dick Power and Bill King were Howatt's top hitters, and Bill Squires led the Con Freight batting order with a two-run double in the first.

Jim Jertson, Con Freight pinch-hitter, lined a sharp would-be hit to right field in the sixth . . . but was pegged out going to first base.

Garden Column:

What To Do About Garden When You Take Off for Summer Vacation

The homeowner who sets off on vacation without a thought for his garden is either foolish or lucky enough to have a gardener. If the latter, he is in a small minority.

The fact is that most people have to give considerable thought to how a favorite border or a moisture-loving shrub can best be kept happy during an absence. Usually the garden is entrusted to the care of a neighbor's boy. And a good many moments of vacation time are spent wondering whether he is following instructions.

Too often, the instructions are verbally given in a brief period of five or 10 minutes when the lad comes over to see where it is. He can hardly be expected to remember all the things you want done. Nurserymen recommend that you make sure all instructions are written down on paper—when to water what and how long. If necessary, draw him a diagram of where to place the sprinkler or hose for best results.

Hanging baskets and plants in pots can be removed from their usual location and grouped together in a shaded place convenient to the hose. If you are only gone a short time, your garden may need no supplemental watering, in which case, you might just move the potted plants to a neighbor's house or next to his property line so he can soak them once or twice.

Often your own care of the garden before you go on vacation will insure that it needs only a minimum of attention. During the two days before you leave, water as though your plants had not seen water for weeks. Be sure everything is soaked long and deep.

Mulch around camellias and azaleas and other shrubs that need plenty of moisture with a two or three-inch layer of peat moss. This insures maximum water retention in the soil. Steer manure is also a good mulch (although not for camelilas or azaleas), but go easy on plants such as roses that will push out tender new growth while you are gone. The nutrients from manure tend to increase this growth and make is more susceptible to wilt. For the same reason, lay off the fertilizer during the two weeks before you leave. Your feeding program can wait until the vacation ends.

Except for the potted plants, one or two waterings should tide most gardens over a two-week vacation period. If your soil is especially light and sandy, however, experience may indicate that another is in order. Just make sure that whoever is to do the watering knows just where and how much of it you want. If you have done your part before you leave, chances are he will do his part much better when you're gone, and you can enjoy the holiday that much more.

Merchants Play Recs in Semi-Pro Ball Saturday

The Menlo Recs' semi-pro baseball squad dropped its third and fourth games in a row last week, bowing to Redwood City American Legion 8-0, and 3-0 at Fort Bargg.

The Recs now have a 2-4 season's record, after getting off to a fast start. They will meet their cross-town rivals, the Menlo Merchants, Saturday at 3 p.m. at Burgess Field. The Merchants banged out a 9-7 win over the Recs two weeks ago.

At Fort Bragg last Sunday, the Menlo Parkers were blanked on a eight-hitter by a side-armed right-hander, and against Redwood City's top-flighted nine last week they picked up only five hits.

Against strong Fort Bragg, Corky Pegelow banged out two for five, giving him the club leadership with a .444 percentage. Pegelow also made an outstanding catch in centerfield of a330-foot drive in the eighth inning, falling into the bleachers with the ball.

The Recs left 11 men stranded on the bases. Bob Anderson did another fine job in relief, retiring six straight batters on 12 pitches.

SUPERVISED PLAY, for children from first through sixth grade age, has been scheduled for the multi-purpose room of Garfield school from 1:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

The Menlo Park recreation basketball AA League continued hot and heavy last week, with Tuesdays' play resulting in a four-way tie for first place.

Nanook, starring Bob Ralls and Corky Pegelow of past M-A fortunes, upset top-ranked Santa Clara 46-39, while the Spartans barely nosed out the cellar-dwelling White Owls 44-40.

Along with Nanook, Santa Clara and the Spartans, Russi's Rangers also moved into the first place tie with a 40-34 win over San Mateo. All four of the tied teams have 5-2 records, with only three games remaining.

In tonight's action, two of the front-runners meet at 9:30 p.m. in Burgess gym. Tom Crane's Spartans, sparked by Al McKinney, will meet the fast-breaking Rangers.

Nanook will meet the White Owls (0-7) at 7:30 p.m. and San Mateo (1-6) will face Ralph Brandt and company (Santa Clara) at 8:30 p.m. in other AA action.

Last Thursday and Tuesday's results in AA and A league action are as follows:

Explorer Scouts Attend Disaster Training

Some 20 Explorer Scouts, representing East Palo Alto and Menlo Park units, last week attended the first of a series of disaster preparedness training sessions being conducted by the Menlo Park Fire District.

Under instruction of the Fire District training officer, Assistant Chief Alfred Cleland, the youths will attend 15 two-hour sessions at which they'll learn rescue techniques, basic first aid, basic firefighting and communications procedures.

The course will take a total of 30 hours.

"The training sessions are being conducted," according to District Chief George Carter, "because it was found, during floods in Palo Alto earlier this year, that the Scouts were a dependable, well-organized force.

"Working under the direction of Palo Alto's city manager, they were a great help to police and firemen who were busy directing traffic around flooded areas, and standing by to evacuate people as needed," he explained.

The number of Scouts who appeared for the first training session was relatively small, but it is expected to grow. Chief Carter reported that Scouts who attended it were enthusiastic, and said they were going to try to recruit more disaster preparedness trainees from their units.

Aiding Chief Cleland in the training will be Fire District Assistant Chief Charles Dompe, plus several company officers.

30 Area Scouts Head for Sierras

Thirty Menlo Park Boy Scouts from two troops will attend the second session at the San Mateo County Council's Camp Kit Carson in the Sierras, starting July 20.

Scouts attending from Troop 223 are North Bleich, Dick Lampman, Bill Duvall, Larry Stearns, Peter Judy, Sam Ball and John Most.

Camp leaders with their troops will be Jack Dwiggins, Scoutmaster, and Roy Canham, committeeman, both from Troop 109, and R. L. Judy, committeeman from Troop 223.

Menlo Girls Model:

Carousel of Fashions Shown By Local Church Members

THESE FIVE MENLO PARK GIRLS were amoce those modeling in the carousel of fashions, which was presented last Friday afternoon in the gardens of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter-Day Saints of the lower peninsula. The affair was held in honor of the girls from this area who were awarded with individual honors during the showing and tea that followed.

Modeling summer fashions were Judy Chapin (shown here in a 1920 version of the chemise), Pat Nielsen, Lynn Baker, Del Speckman and Beverly Crofts. Other models were from Sunnyvale, Palo Alto and Los Altos. Many of the clothes worn were made by the girls who modeled.

A carousel of fashions was featured by members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints of the lower Peninsula at their annual summer fashion show which was held last Friday in the gardens of the Menlo Park Chapel.

Seventeen models paraded fashions depicting springtime events, summer parties and activities and appropriate wear for church functions. Among those modeling from Menlo Park were Dell Speckman, Pat Nielsen, Beverly Crofts, Judy Chapin and Lynn Baker. The girls represented Palo Alto, Sunnyvale, Los Altos and Menlo Park at the fashion showing.

Mrs. Jo Ann Rogers of Menlo Park was narrator during the showing, and the clothing shown were spring suits and dresses, summer cottons and play clothes, and evening dresses. Many of the fashions were made by the girls who modeled.

A special feature of the afternoon affair was the comparison shown in chemise and sack dresses. The original chemise of the 1920 era was modeled by Judy Chapin and compared with the modern day version now so popular.

The fashion carousel and tea was held in honor of the models, who were the recipients of individual awards for attendance and church participation for the past year. Mrs. Louise Johnson of Atherton was in charge of the event and Mrs. Dorothy Chapin of Menlo Park made the fashion arrangements. Handling decorations for the affair was Mrs. Ivy Pearson of Atherton.

The gardens of the church provided the locale and blue and white flowers were used as centerpieces for the tables. Among the guests at the showing were the mothers of the honored girls and other members of the church and their guests.

Dorothea Huettig Wed In Woodside Church Nuptials

MR. AND MRS. GERALD BEVILACQUA

Dorothea (Dodie) Huettig became the bride of Gerald (Jerry) Bevilacqua in a ceremony held in Our Lady of the Wayside Church in Woodside on June 29. Dodie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Huettig of Menlo Park and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ulisse Bevilacqua of Pleasanton.

VOW EXCHANGE

The vows were exchanged at a 2 p.m. nuptial mass at which Rev. Guy B. Hayden officiated.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. White gladioli, delphiniums, stock and lillium auretum decorated the afternoon wedding scene.

Dodie wore a full length gown of imported Swiss lace over sky blue taffeta. The wedding gown was designed and executed by her mother, and the fitted bodice featured long sleeves and a Sabrina neckline, which was enhanced by the scalloped pattern of the lace. The Swiss lace was imported by the brides' aunt, Mrs. Eva Werckshagen, while on a European tour last summer. Panels of the lace were a dominant feature of the bouffant skirt which terminated in a chapel length train. The skirt was of white silk organza over white taffeta.

MANTILLA

She also wore a Mantilla of the imported lace and carried a cascading bouquet of lily of the valley, phaleanopsis and stephanotis.

Michele Jorat was her maid of honor and she was attired in a powder blue silk organza and lace gown. The princess styled gown was fashioned with a scoop neckline and a lace bodice. Her bouquet was of tangerine carnations and stephanotis.

Preceding Dodie down the aisle were Mrs. Nadine Perry of San Lorenzo and Pat Wiederkehr of San Gabriel. They were dressed identically to the maid of honor and carried cascading bouquets of tangerine carnations.

BEST MAN

Standing for Jerry as best man was his brother, Edward Bevilacqua. Serving as ushers were Don Perry of San Lorenzo and Tom Bevilacqua, also of San Lorenzo.

Approximately 250 guests toasted the newly married couple at a reception held immediately following the ceremony at Rickey's Studio Inn in Palo Alto. Receiving the guests, Mrs. Huettig chose a sage green lace sheath fashioned with a wide neckline and a cummerbund of matching chiffon. Her accessories were white and she wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Savino, the benedict's mother, donned a lace sheath in a periwinkle blue shade trimmed with matching chiffon, and white accessories. Her corsage was of orchids.

U. S. TOUR

Before leaving for a six-week tour of the United States, Dodie changed to a sheath and jacket ensemble in cornflower blue. Her accessories were in an orange silk print and she completed her costume with a natural straw hat and gloves in a matching shade.

Upon their return, Dodie and Jerry will make their home in San Lorenzo where the benedict is a construction supervisor for the Bevilacqua Development Company.

Dodie is a graduate of Menlo-Atherton High School and San Jose State College.

Her husband is a graduate of Castlemont High School and attended the University of Loyola in Los Angeles. He served for two years with the Naval Air Force.

He has two sisters, Mrs. Frank Savino of San Leandro and Mrs. Ernest Selmeczki of San Lorenzo. His grandmother is Mrs. Sam Spadorcio of Tracy.

City Historian Fetes Children At Party

Sue Gale acted as hostess Saturday to two great-nephews and a young cousins, all of whom were born last summer, at a "birthday party' at her home, 417 Glenwood avenue. Some 28 friends and members of the family from San Francisco and the Peninsula were present.

Those feted included John Scaroni, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scaroni (Margaret Moore) of Menlo Park; David Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. James N. Porter (Susanna Moore) of San Carlos, and Ronnie Phipps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Phipps (Joyce Brophy) of Sunnyvale.

Young John and David are grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Moore of Menlo Park and Yuma, Ariz.: Mrs. Moore's family has spent a lifetime in this city.

The family home, established at its present address in 1893, was the home of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gale, pioneer Menlo Park residents.

Young Ronnie is descended from the family of John and Bridget Brophy, who moved to the Bay area in 1853, and later settled in the town of Searsville. The latter community was obliterated in 1891.

Also among the less often seen of the many former Menlo Park residents who were present were Mrs. Arthur Gale, widow of the late Arthur A. Gale who was born here, and the former Marie Casey Mrs. Pilling, who was visiting from Cleveland with her daughter, Carol Ann, who is 7 months old.

Mrs. Pilling is presently visiting with her mother and father, the William T. Caseys, at their home at 13 Mills street.

Sue Gale, who is the city's historian, observed a birthday herself, on July 4.

The date was an occasion for a family picnic at the Gale residence. Strictly a "family affair," it featured a large rolled cake, decorated to simulate a firecracker, complete with fuse.

BOWLING GROUP of the Menlo-Atherton Newcomers Club has announced its bowling schedule. They will meet the first and third Tuesday of each month at 12:45 p.m. at the Camino Bowl. They will bowl August 5.

Shopping In Menlo

with MERRIE PARKER

Anticipating Christmas in July may seem a little premature but shoppers will be wise to start planning now with an eye to the coming season. Specifically, we refer to those planning to handknit many of their gifts.

At ETHEL ACHARD'S KNITTING SHOP you will find a wonderfully wide selection in all the finest yarns, in both regular stock and knitting novelties. Luxurious yarns in lovely colors for making those ever-popular Argyle men's socks can be found in the regular skeins and also in the handy kits. The kits sell at $1.50 and up and the 1-ounce skeins of Shetland yarns sell from 79 cents and up.

The newest in handsome knitting bags are a nice item whether as a gift for a friend or relative or as a treat for yourself. Many of these bags come in prints and solids and are so smart you will find that you'll enjoy carrying one as a handbag. Some are in linen textures in chic combinations such as beige and black patent and others are in neat provincial patterns and plaids. These are a marvelous buy and start at a small $2.

Ethel Achard also has beach bags in a great variety of shapes and sizes. They, too, come in pretty patterns and solids and all have waterproof plastic linings. Some come with a handy zippered side pocket for keeping cosmetics and other small items. These sell from $3 up.

Other gift suggestions offered at Ethel Achard's are the baby booty kits which sell at $1.25 each and and come with the yarn and leather soles. They can be had in any of the assorted pastel shades.

Planning on replenishing your children's wardrobes? Then be sure to stop in and see the many bargains being offered now at HARRY'S JUVENILE SHOP. For your little boy there are the wonderful terry cloth sweatshirts, so perfect for play or days at the beach. They'll launder easily and you will want several at the low price of $1.49. Polo shirts are now selling at $1 and come in many stripes, patterns and solids. Capric pants are now on sale at $2.98 and boxer shorts are selling at $3.50. Sports hirts are a real bargain at $2:50 and the zipper front shorts are down to $1.75 from $2.29.

Swim suits for both boys and girls are now on sale. For the remainder of this season and for summer fun next year, plan now to buy atthe low prices offered now at Harry's Juvenile Shop. Boys' suits are a low $1.98 from $2.50, and girls' suits are on sale at $2 and $2.98.

For the smallest member of the family there are wonderful stuffed toy lambs and kittens that are actually small music boxes that will tie on baby's crib.

These Swiss music boxes are the finest made and are selling at a miraculous price—$3.95!

Patio dwellers who have their evening meals and barbecues outdoors will want to take advantage of the special now at UNIVERSITY HARDWARE on "Scatterbug" insect repellant candles. These are wonderful for eliminating those pesky insects that might spoil your evening fun. They are now selling at 79 cents each or two for $1.49.

Also on special are "Fire-matic" charcoal lighters. These electric barbecue lighters take all the fuss out of charcoal burning and insure an even coal fire. They are selling for $2.98, a saving of $1.

University Hardware is closing out the Kitcheneer Salad Maker, which is a combination grinder, chopper and shredder. This standing kitchen helper with rotating disks will take all the work out of food preparation. Made by Rival, it now sells at only $9.95.

Other specials available right now are Flint stainless steel kitchen tool sets, which include a turner, fork, spoon, ricer, ladle and spatula. It regularly sells at $14.95 and is on special now for $7.95. Angel food cake pans are now $1.15 each and the "Kut-Easy" food chopper is a low $3.19.

To take the guesswork out of oven roasting, try the roast thermometers by Tel-Tru which are sold by University Hardware. They are unbreakable, stainless steel, and are guaranteed accurate. You will be able to tell at a glance when the roast is medium, rare or well done. This would make an unusual, thoughtful gift, too. These thermometers sell for $3.50.

Mrs. Kenneth Lowell of Atherton has been named general chairman of the Irene Fall Fashion Show to be presented at the Mark Hopkins Hotel on Monday, August 25, at 12:30 p.m.

Mrs. Lowell will be assisted by Mrs. John Blackinger of Atherton and Mrs. William Kratt.

Mrs. James Lawson of Menlo Park is in charge of publicity, assisted by Miss Mary Margaret Casey.

The showing is sponsored by the Senior Auxiliary to the Stanford Convalescent Home.

Menlo Park Makeup Artist Wins Grand Prize in Paris

"King of Beauty" is the inscription on the grand prize trophy recently awarded to Layne Marlin of Maurice Williams beauty salon in Menlo Park. Mr. Marlin was presented with the prize at the conclave of America's finest make-up artists which was held in June at the Claridge Hotel in Paris. The conclave was sponsored by the Continental Makeup Guilds of Europe and Mr. Marlin won the honor for his speed and achievement of naturalness and simplicity.

He is a former makeup director and stylist in Hollywood. He represented the Hollywood unit of the Makeup Guilds of America at the international contest. Just prior to the judging, Mr. Marlin lectured on "Techniques of Simplified Facial Makeup."

He is a graduate of the cosmeology department of the San Mateo Junior College and has been a featured artist in the field for the past 12 years.

Currently, he presents his artistry in lectures on a major San Francisco television network and also gives demonstrations at many club functions, luncheons, fashion shows and conventions.

In his lectures, Mr. Marlin emphasizes that the woman over 40 need not be concerned about her age if she maintains her youthful appearance. "It takes a combination of proper diet, correct mental thinking and the art of good grooming," says the celebrated makeup artist.

"Heavy makeup and too-bright makeup shades only emphasizes age, never conceals it." In order to achieve makeup perfection, Mr. Marlin uses only the "down-to-earth" essentials, and the facial preparations he employs are products of the average vegetable garden. Grandmother's favorite cosmetics were extracted from the oils and juices of vegetables and top cosmetologists in the field today also recommend their use.

DEMONSTRATING MAKEUP TECHNIQUES used recently in Paris when he won the grand prize of his profession is Layne Marlin of the Maurice Williams salon in Menlo Park. His model for the demonstration is Mrs. Virginia Noriega, also of Menlo Park. The inscription on the large trophy, presented to him in Europe reads, "King of Beauty" and was presented to him last month. —Recorder photo

There is, for instance, a whipped cucumber and avocado cleansing cream, which provides vitamins for the skin to be digested by the skin cells, and a skin conditioner of parsley juice which aids in the removal of soil and bacteria. Also listed among the nutritional skin compounds is the new cocoa butter makeup base which serves to keep the skin forever young. Listed, too, are cherry jello lip and eye luster and a whipped cream rouge, all especially recommended by Mr. Marlin for the fresh, dewey look for which he was awarded his profession's top honor.

Winning trophies is not a new experience for Menlo Park's creative artist for he also was the recipient of a plaque in 1957 as television's most honored and perfected makeup director, which was presented to him by the Makeup Guilds of America.

She will return in time to enter Woodside High School as a freshman in September.

Visiting Nurses Association Service to Public Is Told

San Mateo County residents have a wealth of health and welfare services which they may take advantage of, one of which is the Well-Baby Clinic, recently featured in the Recorder.

An additional service is the visiting nurses service, not a part of the county set-up, but made available by the United Crusade, which provides two full-time nurses who cover the Menlo Park and East Palo Alto areas.

Anyone may apply for assistance from the Visiting Nurses Association, but all such service is rendered under medical direction, from the patients' doctors.

Since many newcomers in the community have no doctor, they will find the VNA of invaluable help to them. Those living in this area may contact the Redwood City office, 619 Bradford street, EM 8-3349 for assistance and information.

For those who can afford to pay a charge of $4.50 per visit is required by the VN. This amount is scaled to the patient's ability to pay and the difference is met with United Crusade funds.

Skilled nursing was carried to the bedsides in the homes of San Mateo County residents, 10,800 times during the past year. This service to the non-hospitalized ill was rendered by the Visiting Nursing Association of San Mateo County.

EASY DOES IT, and the public nurse from Visiting Nursing Association of San Mateo, a United Crusade agency, makes it sound convincing. Mrs. Angie Carleton, formerly of San Mateo and now of Menlo Park, is one of the nurses who goes into private homes to help the sick get well.

PRIMARY FUNCTION

To care for those who are sick but not sick enough to be hospitalized is the primary function of a supervisor and eight trained nurses who go out into the field with a look of determination on their face and the traditional nursing bag in their hand.

This service although integrated with the service of the San Mateo County Department of Public Health and Welfare, has specific duties of its own which are not tax supported.

The nursing service of the Public Health Department concerns itself chiefly with keeping the county well with a program of health promotion and disease prevention.

On the other hand, the Visiting Nursing Association, which you help support with your contributions to the United Crusade, helps those who are sick to get well.

By way of explaining the duties of the public nurse who takes her curative training to the home, Miss Martha D. Adam, executive director of the Association, who has offices at 225 37th avenue in San Mateo, said, "We care for patients during the acute period, but as yet can not possible give continuing aid to the chronically ill.

"However," she said, "we do not abandon our patients."

FAMILIES TRAINED

"Rather," she continued, "it is the duty of the public nurse visiting in a private home to train some member of the family to give good nursing care and carry out uncomplicated procedures in long term illness."

"In some instances, it is necessary to teach the patient to care for himself." Although anyone, regardless of age, may avail himself of a public nurse in helping heim get well, Miss Adam explained that the greatest number of requests come from the aged. And since the life span continues to grow longer almost every year, due to modern medicine, care of the aged is increasing proportionately.

If you are one who has never been called upon to do more than administer a band-aid or prescribe an aspirin, and suddenly are responsible for the care of one who is ailing, the public nurse coming to your home can be your salvation.

She is prepared to teach you innumerable necessary function of the sick room, such as taking a temperature, giving a bed bath, giving injections or redressing a wound, also she can give you ideas about how to keep the sick member of your family comfortable, happy and contented in bed.

You will not become a Florence Nightingale overnight, but at least you will be able to avoid costly long term care or hospitalization. In addition you will have the satisfaction of caring for a loved one and caring for him well.

IS COORDINATOR

Miss Adam explained that often a nurse from the Visiting Nursing Association makes herself invaluable by playing the role of coordinator, informer and observer. Once familiarized with the needs of the patient and the family situation, she often can approach the doctor or some community agency with valid suggestions for the furtherance of the family's welfare.

In order to be on the nursing staff of the VNA it is necessary to have a diploma from a university program of study in public health nursing accredited by the National League for nursing plus a Public Health Nursing Certificate from the State Department of Public Health.

However, according to Miss Adam, these credentials do not always produce a person who can give effectively visiting nursing service. It seems that it takes special qualifications and qualities for a nurse to be able to effectively transfer her skills from the hospital bed to the home. Moreover, some are geared for this nursing "on the run" and still others are not able to teach the sick to care for themselves.

The staff members of the Visiting Nursing Association of San Mateo County are no ordinary composite of nurse and woman. They walk into a home to help. In their nursing bag there is no medicine, for that must be prescribed by a doctor, nor does it contain the wherewith to bring babies but it is bulging with an assortment of practical items—thermometer, sterlizing pan, cotton, rubber goods, syringe, needles, etc.

AIDS CONTRIVED

What they don't have and you don't have they contrive. There is nothing wrong with mayonnaise jars to hold sterilized cotton and needles and a cardboard box to ease the pressure of blankets and sensitive feet.

To Westlake and Bayshore on the north, to East Palo Alto, Menlo Park, La Honda and Pescadero on the south and to all points in between, the nurses of the Visiting Nursing Association of San Mateo County will come when you summon. They come to help you and teach you and to make you happy and grateful they came.

M-A Newcomers Club Adds New Section

The Menlo-Atherton Newcomers Club has formed a new interest section for members of their organization. The new section has been named the Volunteer Service section and their first meeting will be held on Thursday, July 24. Those interested will gather at the home of the section chairman, Mrs. Manuel Wiseman, 77 Fairview lane in Atherton at 10 a.m.

For further information concerning the activities of the group, members are asked to contact Mrs. Wiseman at DA 5-6118.

18 Menlo Park Residents Visit Capital

One of the largest "delegations" of Menlo Park residents ever to visit the capital appears to have journeyed there during June, Congressman J. Arthur Younger, San Mateo county representative, reported this week.

No less than 16 persons stopped from here at the representative's office. They included:

Mrs. T. E. Haven; Mr. and Mrs. George Long and family; Mr. and Mrs. John Thurston, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Cook and family; Lynn Larson; Mrs. Guy Gay, Fay C. Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Horstkorta; Judy, Gary and Kurt Schnepple; Donald J. Kennedy and family.

SURPRISE

Adding to the fun of just having a party is the thrill and excitement of seeing your guest of honor successfully surprised. This week many parties were based on this theme. Nick Cann and John Lindsay surprised Susan Gray with a party last Monday night, because she is leaving on a vacation and then will spend next year at Santa Calina School for Girls. Guests enjoying themselves eating dinner, which mainly consisted of beans and do-it-yourself pizza, and dancing, were John Lindsay, Macy Ennis, Nick Cann, Susan Gray, Al Adams, Nancy Hawkins, Paul DuPont, Marcia Mirsky, Keith Simmons, Terry Rudolph, Bill Sturgess, Donna Starin, Al Pryal and Jenny Lee Moore.

Marcia Mirsky was the next one to be surprised, and the occasion was her birthday. The party, given on a six-year-old theme (I am sure she is older than that) was at her house. Having dinner, singing, and playing jacks were Darlene Anderson, Lynne Livingston, Sue Plate, Linda Biocini, Kathy Nelson, Jan Osmond, Lia Jackson, Macy Ennis, Marilee Green and Debbie Dant.

July the third, there was a surprise party at Barbara Link's to celebrate her 16th birthday. It was a slumber party and the girls chatted all night and then got up for an early morning swim. On hand to surprise Barbara were Betty Hoehn, Sally Ennis, Joey Thorp, Alice Sussix and Diana Schovlin.

Last but not least of the surprise parties was the one that Becky Hayner gave to celebrate the Smith twins' 19th birthday on July 5. The party was given in a Hawaiian theme and the guests all came sporting Hawaiian garb and bare feet. Sheri Adams, Bob Ralls, Sharon Hamilton, Tom Patterson, Judi Hussiman, Nick Bouja, Leisha Gullison, Bob Blanchard, Barb Buckles, Les Delacio, Carol Hammond, Bill Adams, Marge Whinaja, Hank Rullhausen, Judy Whintaset, Dick Smith, Becky Hayner and Don Smith ate the Hawaiian dinner of spare ribs and fresh fruit salads and danced to the strains of native music.

JUST FOR FUN

No surprises or birthdays, and no one is going away. These people gave parties just for fun. First is a street dance in Westridge given and attended by this group on Sunday evening, the 13th: Joan Kane, Penny Post, Joey Throp, Dottie Grove, Dave Moreley, Terry Baker, Kent Hull, Bob Brentnal, Tom Morton, Eric Swegels, Charlie Hoehn and Jerry Anderson.

On July 3, Bob Brentnall gave a party to honor his cousin, Peggy Hughes and Charlotte Turner from Los Angeles. Guests were also seen gazing at the trophy Bob won in a Model A race. Dancing and partaking of pizza and punch were Betty Hoehn, Kent Morton, B. J. Post, Dave Robertson, Peggy Hughes, Bob Flegel, Bob Brentnall, Charlotte Turner, Tom Morton, Joan Kane, Eric Swegels, and Betty Aced.

Pizza again . . . this time the hostess was Beth Rosener. Jennifer Perrin, Beth Rosener, Bobbie Link Linda Crawford, Sue Hall, Jan Gray, Sue Castner, Kathy Long, Brent Lambert, Dave Skuce, Wells Rictor, Dave Leahy, Pete Graham and Walt Noonas ate pizza and listened to records last Friday night.

It all began at Sea Cliff (Linda Davis' beach party, that is) with swimming and ended up at Linda Davis' house for a barbecue dinner. Participating in the events on Saturday, the 11th, were Wendy Ford, Muffie Schmitz, Penny Sewell, Gail Graham, Bonnie Drury, Judy Glenn, Suzanne Fleming, Susan Larson and Sally Thurman.

The Presbyterian church held another of their weekly summer rec nights last Wednesday night, this time it was at Joan Kane's house. If you are interested, the rec nights are held every Wednesday night and they originate at the Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock. For last week the activities were swimming, ping-pong, and dancing. Participating were Joan Kane, Janet Buckthal, Sue Jamart, Linda Heino, B. J. Post, Paula Helman, Betty Hoehn, Joey Thorp, Carol Cameron, Anne Fullenwider, Toni Toonan, Linda Bixler, Yolanda Strock, Terry Baker, Tom Jamart, Dick Aced, Bob Rhinehart, Tom Morton, Bob Burks, Jerry Anderson, Eric Swegels, Kent Hull and Steve and Bill Cohl.

Thursday, the 10th, Lynne Livingscton, Darlene Anderson, Sue Fehring, Kathy Nelson, Marcia Mirsky, Sue Plate, Linda Biocini, Debbie Dant, Sharon Hatlett, Vicki Andrews, Jan Osmond, Jane Breckler, Macy Ennis, Gail Gowdy and Nancy Grey swam and enjoyed refreshments. This group were all down at Santa Cruz for the day last Sunday: Janet Buckthal, Toni Toonan, Fran Willard, Penny Walker, Linda Heino and Dick Lenke.

Of course the main activity in the summertime is travel, and there has been much of that done by Menlo-Athertonites. Judy Burton is spending a month in the East, Peggy McDowell is counselling at a camp in Lagunita, Carol Stevenson is counseling at the Girl Scout camp in Hawaii. Also in Hawaii is Ann Bartells, who is attending a summer session at the University of Hawaii; Ione Knight is in Pine Crest, Cynthia Henderson is spending the summer in Argentina and other parts of South America, Linda Allio is leaving today for Colorado and Salt Lake to sight-see and visit the universities at these places, Jennifer Perrin is in Oceanside, and the Aced family, which includes Betty and Dick, are in Canada. Jane Mueller is having a wonderful time touring Europe. Also in Europe are '58 grads Gary Burke, Hal Wyman and Dick Campbell. Linda Heino and her family are leaving for a stay in the Grand Tetons, and Lin Skaff is in Tahoe for a week.

JEAN A. NATTKEMPER of Menlo Park was named to the honor roll at the University of Oregon. She is among 358 honor students at the University and is a freshman majoring in liberal arts.
